Negotiators in Conference at White House to Debate Dispute Plan to Resume Talks Tomorrow in New York City

NO AGREEMENT

President Apparently Succeeds in Extending Discussions

Washington—(P)—The soft coal operators and miners conference at the White House ended today with only a statement by John L. Lewis that the negotiators would meet again tomorrow, in New York.

Lewis' statement to reporters indicated that the conference with the president had succeeded in extending the labor contract negotiations despite signs that the conference were unable to agree.

As he emerged from the president's office, Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers' union, said any statement on the nature of the talk with Mr. Roosevelt would have to come from the White House.

Charles O'Neill, speaking for the Appalachian operators, nodded assent.

O'Neill also agreed with Lewis' announcement that they would meet again tomorrow.

No Formal Statement
The White House later said there would be no formal statement from the president, but that Mr. Roosevelt might answer questions on the subject at his press conference.

O'Neill said the conference would take an afternoon train back to New York. The conference spent about twenty minutes in a reception room following their discussion with the president.

The conference broke up at 12:15 p. m. C. S. E. after a discussion lasting more than an hour.

The five mine owner representatives and five union leaders went to a reception room with Secretary Perkins before making any announcement.

The scene of the two-month-old parley over a new union contract shifted to the capital from New York in a series of rapid developments.

1. John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers and the CIO, blamed the Roosevelt administration and the labor department specifically for the shutdown which has kept 460,000 men from coal mines in 26 states.

2. Secretary of Labor Perkins, announcing acceptance of the invitation to the White House meeting, said last night the operators had been guilty of a violation of the principle of the ethics of collective bargaining.

3. Miss Perkins also said that the coal commission would announce a coal crisis in the near future and that "the coal need is so great that the government owes it to the citizens to get the coal moving."

The labor secretary described the president's role as that of a mediator.

Miss Perkins held a long conference in New York with the coal negotiators yesterday. In the midst of that session, Lewis made public a letter to Dr. John R. Steelman, federal conciliator, saying:

"Failure of the Roosevelt administration to approve or sustain the coal workers' offers to keep the industry operating caused many coal operators to believe that they had carte blanche to disembowel the mine workers union if they could."

WIRES ROOSEVELT
Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Joe Ozanic, president of the Progressive Mine Workers of America (A. F. of L.), sent a telegram to President Roosevelt today urging that P. M. A. representatives be included in the White House conference called in an attempt to settle the labor deadlock between CIO miners and coal operators.

Ozanic said the P. M. A. represented "a majority of the employees in 234 mines formerly covered by the Appalachian agreement" and asked that he be included in the conference.

DIES AT HOTEL

Washington—(P)—Carl R. Gray, 71, vice chairman of the board of the Union Pacific railroad and its former president, was found dead in bed today at his hotel. Discovery of Gray's death was made when associates went to his room to awaken him.

A son, Russell Gray of Wellesley, Mass., said his father was feeling well when he retired last evening after having dinner with another son, Carl R. Gray, Jr., of St. Paul, Minn. The elder Gray's home was in New York.

Cotton Exports Subsidy Proposal Stirs Up Debate

New Controversy in Senate After O. K. for Farm Aid Fund

Washington—(P)—A proposal for subsidizing American cotton exports created a new controversy in the senate today following approval of an extra $382,075,000 for farm aid.

A group led by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) sought to place the cotton subsidy in the $1,215,000,000 bill appropriating funds for the agriculture department.

Another group of southerners, including Senators Smith (D-S. C.) and George (D-Ga.), pledged a finish fight against the proposal.

Bankhead's plan, put forward as a compromise with recommendations of President Roosevelt, calls for a government subsidy of about 10 cents a bale on new cotton shipped abroad, up to 6,000,000 bales.

The president had suggested that the subsidy be used to reduce the present government loan stocks of more than 11,000,000 bales.

Backs Amendments
The senate approved committee and other amendments yesterday which added, among other items, $25,000,000 for parity payments to producers of cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco and rice; $115,000,000 for surplus crop disposal; and $25,000,000 for farm tenancy loans.

While the senate was voting on the additions, Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury told reporters he was "greatly disturbed" by the prospect of such an increase in the $3,300,000,000 federal deficit estimated for the year beginning July 1.

He said congress should levy new taxes to cover the excess.

Hull Would End Horrors of War

Urges Military Physicians To Join 'in Appeal To All Peoples'

Washington—(P)—Secretary of State Hull asked a convention of military physicians from all over the world today to join him in an appeal to all peoples to do their utmost in bringing about the day when the horrors of war will disappear.

Before high-ranking medical officers of the German, Italian, British, French, Polish, Rumanian and other armies, Hull reaffirmed the faith of the United States in "an international order based upon justice, respect for law, and the recognition of the essential dignity and worth of the human spirit."

Hull said in an address read for him by Assistant Secretary George S. Messersmith at the tenth international congress of military medicine and pharmacy:

"Science knows no frontiers. The spirit of sacrifice knows no limit. It is in this spirit that you stand ready to make the extreme sacrifice in your field of duty. I am confident that in harmony with the same unselfish humanitarianism of science and in loyalty to that same spirit of sacrifice, you will join me in an appeal to all peoples to do their utmost in bringing about the day when the horrors of war will disappear—the day when the spiritual activity and the energies of mankind may be turned from hatred and fears to the development of friendship, tolerance and understanding."

Federation Chief To Speak at Convention

Wausau—(P)—The committee on arrangements for the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor's annual convention to be held in Wausau June 15-19 announced today that William Green would be here Aug. 17 for an address. Green is president of the American Federation of Labor.

Heil Budget Bill Is Given Assembly O. K.

House Adopts Governor's Recommendation for Flat 5 Pct. Cut

$67,687,392 TOTAL

Measure Passed Under Suspension of Rules By 59 to 40 Vote

Madison—(P)—The assembly today passed the state budget bill after adopting Governor Heil's recommendations for a flat 5 per cent cut of more than $2,000,000 in departmental appropriations voted by the joint finance committee.

The reduction, applying to all appropriations except those for state aids, would provide a budget of $67,687,392 for the two-year period beginning July 1. This figure is approximately $900,000 higher than the total originally recommended by the governor.

The bill was passed under suspension of the rules, 59 to 40 and sent to the senate which also must approve it before it goes to the governor for signature.

Majority forces in the house set a new record for speed in disposing of the finance bill. In a five hour session last Friday, the assembly killed 37 amendments which would have increased expenditures by $15,000,000.

The executive office was dissatisfied with finance committee action increasing the appropriations nearly $3,000,000 above the governor's recommendations and introduced, through Assemblyman Frank Graess (R) Sturgeon Bay, a blanket amendment for a 5 per cent cut.

Try to Amend Bill
Two Progressives, Alfonsi, Pence, and Biemiller, Milwaukee, attempted to amend the bill further today to restore about $158,000 for the state teachers colleges and $350,000 for the University of Wisconsin.

The amendments were rejected and others similar to increases proposed Friday were ruled out of order by Speaker Vernon Thomson (R) Richland Center.

As the bill now stands the state emergency board will have $750,000 a year to make up any deficiencies in departmental funds.

Graess said the reduction would not involve cutting salaries but opponents contended the pay of employees at the teachers' colleges and the university would have to be reduced and that the university would have to increase resident student fees.

The budget bill was engrossed 58 to 41 and Republican floor leader Reuben Peterson, Berlin, moved suspension of the rules to put it up for passage at once. Progressive leaders raised no objection.

It is expected administration spokesmen in the senate will seek prompt action on the bill in that house. Introduction of revenue bills to raise needed funds to balance the budget will follow.

Papal Nuncios are Stressing Pontiff's Desire for Peace

Vatican City—(P)—A Vatican news service announced today that papal nuncios in various capitals were conveying to the heads of governments the pope's "ardent desire for peace."

The news service said that Pope Pius XII, who always has interested himself in peace, did so today "more than ever" and was "furthering the cause of peace" through normal diplomatic contacts.

"It is for this reason," the service said, "that in these days various nuncios have been in contact with heads of governments and ministers of foreign affairs to communicate to them the pope's ardent desires and prayers of the pope that peace be not compromised and that the questions which today exist between the various countries be solved by the peaceful means to which all say after all they are disposed."

Interviews between Monsignor Cesare Orsenigo, nuncio to Germany, and Chancellor Hitler and between Monsignor Valerio Valeri, nuncio to France, and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet took place last week.

"The paper nuncio to Poland, Filippino Corradi, called on Foreign Minister Joseph Beck at Warsaw yesterday."

NEW JOB LIKELY

Washington—(P)—Francis B. Sayre (above) assistant secretary of state, was reported by well-informed senators today to be President Roosevelt's choice for high commissioner in the Philippines. Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, who will sail for the United States Thursday, is expected to resign his $18,000-a-year position immediately on his return.

After he reports to Mr. Roosevelt on Philippine conditions and takes a vacation, friends said, the former Indiana governor will campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Senate Refuses To Speed Action On Fishing Bill

Motion to Act on Catlin Measure Without Hearing Is Rejected

Madison—(P)—The senate defeated overwhelmingly today an attempt to rush action on a bill which would open the trout fishing season in Wisconsin next Saturday.

A motion by Gettelman (R) Milwaukee, to withdraw the Catlin bill from committee and act on it without a public hearing was rejected 23 to 4.

Legislators said there was no chance of conducting a hearing and getting final floor action in time to advance the season opening, now scheduled for next Monday.

The senators who voted with Gettelman for immediate action were Kresby (P) Green Bay, Connors (P) Barron, and Murray (R) Milwaukee. They argued that "thousands of persons" were interested in the Catlin bill and that a hearing was not essential.

"The senate should let the people know whether they can go ahead with plans for a weekend of fishing," Connors said.

Senators Duell (R) Fond du Lac; Ingram (P) Eau Claire, and McDermott (P) Ladysmith, who declared the legislature should not interfere with the seasons set by the conservation commission and insisted on a hearing.

"The bill was not properly introduced in the assembly, and it sets a bad precedent," Duell said. "We should not present unsound ill-considered laws to be jammed through in order to give somebody a little newspaper publicity and perhaps a few votes."

Heil May Take Part in Winnipeg Ceremonies

Madison—(P)—Governor Julius P. Heil today considered an invitation from Mayor John Queen of Winnipeg to be in the Canadian city May 24 and participate in ceremonies honoring King George and Queen Elizabeth of England.

Mayor Queen is touring midwestern cities in the interests of the royal visit and the furtherance of Canadian-American relations.

Heil said he would attend if he could cancel two speaking engagements for that date. "I might," he added, "be able to get a word in edgewise about Wisconsin cheese and other products."

John A. Coe, Jr., general sales manager for American Brass, denied that his company was price leader for the industry, testifying that in many instances his company followed prices set by competitors.

He conceded, however, that there was "a general following" in the industry with respect to price policies, and that when one company raised the price of a product the others often followed suit without any necessary relation to costs.

As for other companies following American Brass prices, Coe said, "We publish our prices and anyone who wishes to may follow them at their own discretion."

BATTLE CRUISER TURNS BACK TOWARD ENGLAND

Abroad the Empress of Australia—(Canada Press)—The battle cruiser Repulse turned back toward England in a solemn ceremony today, leaving the naval convoy of the liner Empress of Australia which is carrying King George VI and Queen Elizabeth on a state visit to Canada and the United States.

In a heavy rain, a whirled up by a half-gale blowing out of the south, the mighty warship drew up alongside the liner. Her band played "God Save the King," and a thousand sailors, lining her decks, cheered as the king returned her salute.

Originally, the Repulse was to have carried the king and queen to Quebec, but because of the European situation, plans were changed and the Empress of Australia was used instead, permitting the battle cruiser to remain in home waters.

With the Repulse returning to her station, the convoy was reduced to two cruisers, the Southampton and the Glasgow.

President May Map 2-Point Rail Program

Expected to Urge Congressional Action During Current Term

PROPOSALS LISTED

Wheeler Likely to Ask For Support for Recommendations

Washington—(P)—The senate interstate commerce committee approved today legislation which would bring water carriers under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

The measure, introduced by Senators Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Truman (D-Mo.), was based in part on the recommendations of President Roosevelt's six-man committee of railroad management and labor.

Besides subjecting water carriers to regulation similar to that now applied to railroads, the bill would codify the interstate commerce act as it applies to railroads, motor carriers and other means of transportation.

Wheeler said he would ask the president to urge congressional action at this session on a two-point railroad program.

Associates reported today that Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont.) of the senate interstate commerce committee would ask the president to support legislation worked out on the basis of suggestions from railroad management and labor and the interstate commerce commission.

Wheeler has proposed:

1. Revision of the interstate commerce act, which would include placing water carriers under I. C. regulation.
2. Creation of a new federal court to take charge of railroad reorganizations, receiverships and bankruptcies.

Mr. Roosevelt was said in congressional quarters to have agreed to make known his approval of the legislation if Wheeler asks him to do so.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), the majority leader, announced that railroad measures "are definitely on the program" for this session.

Wheeler said he would send to the senate floor this week his bill to reorganize the interstate commerce act. Usually well-informed legislative commission had opposed placing water carriers under the I. C. and had drafted a statement of its views. Mr. Roosevelt, however, was said to have suggested that the statement be withheld.

The proposed legislation would set up a new six-member transportation board to study general transportation problems.

Fail to Agree on 'Price Leadership'

Conflicting Testimony on Part Played by American Brass Company

Washington—(P)—The monopoly committee heard conflicting testimony today on whether the American Brass company is the "price leader" in the alloy fabricating industry.

H. L. Randall, president of the Riverside Brass company, Riverside, N. J., testified that "the custom of the industry" for smaller concerns to maintain prices identical with those published by American Brass, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Anaconda Copper company.

John A. Coe, Jr., general sales manager for American Brass, denied that his company was price leader for the industry, testifying that in many instances his company followed prices set by competitors.

He conceded, however, that there was "a general following" in the industry with respect to price policies, and that when one company raised the price of a product the others often followed suit without any necessary relation to costs.

As for other companies following American Brass prices, Coe said, "We publish our prices and anyone who wishes to may follow them at their own discretion."

Stockholder Thinks Family Should Get Free Train Rides

Milwaukee—(P)—Mrs. Josephine M. Schroeder, 70, a stockholder in the Milwaukee road, figured there was nothing to be gained by but she came here today from her home in Itasca, Minn., to tell officials of the railroad she thought she ought to get a few free rides for her family's $22,400 investment.

"I'm here to kick, and I'm going to kick, and I don't care if I don't get what I came for, but I want to tell you how we all feel," she said with a pout.

She said her father invested $14,000 in the railroad in 1915 and that four members of her family later put in another $8,400.

"We got $22,400 tied up in stock. Can't we even get a ride out of our railroad, especially when my two grandfathers donated land for the right-of-way?"

Only one other stockholder appeared for the annual stockholders' meeting, and officials said it was the Milwaukee road, especially when my two grandfathers donated land for the right-of-way."

One other stockholder appeared for the annual stockholders' meeting, and officials said it was the Milwaukee road, especially when my two grandfathers donated land for the right-of-way."

Proposals Involve 14 Bureau Transfers And Mergers

LAST THIS TERM

14 Major Points are Included in Program Outlined Today

Washington—(P)—President Roosevelt proposed his second government reorganization plan to congress today involving 14 inter-departmental bureau transfers and consolidations estimated to save $1,250,000 a year.

The president in a lengthy message declared this would be his final reorganization proposal to congress this session under the recently-enacted reorganization law.

"In view of the fact that it is now May 9," he said, "and that any reorganization plan must lie before the congress for 60 calendar days, and because the reorganizations of an intra-departmental character require a great deal of research and careful painstaking detailed work, I do not propose to send any further general reorganization plans to the congress at this session."

The first plan, involving merger of a score of independent lending, welfare and public works agencies into three new federal agencies, becomes effective June 24 because the veto resolution failed of passage in the house last week.

Blames 'Company' Union for Labor Clashes in West
Official Charges Effort to Discredit National Labor Board

Washington—(P)—A California state official charged before the senate labor committee today that a "company-fostered" A. F. of L. union had provoked labor violence at Westwood, Calif., in an effort to discredit the national labor board.

The witness, George C. Kidwell, director of the California Department of Industrial Relations, was disputed immediately by A. F. of L. Counsel Joseph Padway, who called the testimony "the worst kind of political chicanery."

Testifying in the committee's hearing on proposed changes in the Wagner labor act, Kidwell traced the history of a bitter controversy between CIO and A. F. of L. unions at the plant of the Red River Lumber company in the isolated town of Westwood in the Sierra mountains of northeastern California.

Blames Company
A member and former officer of A. F. of L. said investigating state agents convinced him that the labor company aided in the formation of and dominated the A. F. of L. union, of which a majority of company employees are said to be members.

The Westwood case previously had been called to the attention of the committee as representing an instance where the labor board was reported to have delayed unnecessarily the holding of an election which outward indications showed might result in a defeat for the CIO.

The A. F. of L. has charged the board with bias in favor of the CIO and has made this charge the basis for suggested changes in the labor act.

Kidwell told the committee violence followed organization of the CIO union in Westwood July 12, 1938. He charged that company agents led a "purge" during which every CIO member was driven out of town within two days.

Court Reverses Board Decision
32 Stevens Point Workers Won't Collect Pay From Dismissal Date

Madison—(P)—The state supreme court today reversed an order of the former labor relations board directing the Folding Furniture Works, Inc., of Stevens Point to pay back wages to 32 discharged employees from the date of their dismissal June 25, 1937.

The court, in an opinion written by Justice Chester A. Fowler, upheld the board's finding that the company had engaged in unfair labor practices through denying employees the right of collective bargaining but said the board had assumed too much authority under the statute.

It held that J. S. Worrell, secretary and treasurer of the company, had made an offer to restate the discharged employees' back pay, should any rights be found to date rather than the date of dismissal.

The court said it had reversed the company $100 a day for 30 days before it had an opportunity to comply with orders of the labor board.

It also held that "turning of business enterprises was not the policy of the Wisconsin labor relations act" and that paying back wages to discharged employees was a "WPA. We haven't any money and we have exceeded the legal limit on bonded indebtedness by $99,999.99."

Hoan Asks Direct Taxes to Pay for Work Relief System
Washington—(P)—Daniel W. Hoan, Socialist mayor of Milwaukee since 1918 urged congress today to establish a permanent work relief system financed by direct taxation instead of borrowing.

Testifying before a house committee investigating the WPA, the mayor said of the present federal relief system:

"We're just going along hit or miss, passing bonds and issuing bonds, and here's one American citizen who is worried about it."

Another witness, Mayor Richard of Detroit, urged the committee not to abandon WPA because of some "fifty specks" that might be found on it.

"Detroit has taken a mighty hard looking on finances," he said in discussing local contributions to the WPA. "We haven't any money and we have exceeded the legal limit on bonded indebtedness by $99,999.99."

Japan Restoring Order in China, Lions are Told

Population Pressure and Need for Resources Factors in Invasion

Japan's population pressure, her need for more resources and a wider market for her industrial products, and her determination to "eliminate sources which have poisoned Sino-Japanese relations" were given by M. T. Yamamoto, newspaper correspondent and lecturer, as the reasons for his native country's present invasion of China in a talk before the Appleton Lions club yesterday at the Conway hotel. Yamamoto, who was born in Japan and received part of his education in the United States, said that his country is "not under the delusion" that it will conquer China, but that it is seeking to make order out of disorder and that it has already made great strides in that respect.

Japan's policing accomplishments are best illustrated in the Manchukuo state, Yamamoto said, where the number of bandits has decreased from 300,000 in 1931 to about 5,000 at present.

The speaker contended that United States' boycotts against Japanese goods (which are unofficial) will damage the United States as much as the Japanese. He stated figures showing that the two countries are engaged in heavy trading.

Ranks Third
Japan has been the third largest customer of the United States in recent years, he said, ranking behind England and Canada. The United States is Japan's best customer, buying about 23 per cent of that country's exports. Japan's raw silk and America's raw cotton are the two leading commodities exchanged.

Declaring that Japanese competition in American markets is not nearly as threatening as has been claimed, Yamamoto said these form only five per cent of Japanese exports.

Claims England is Competitor
"Great Britain, on the other hand, is America's greatest competitor and yet she buys more from America than any other country." The newspaper correspondent, for more than 35 years a resident of the United States, attributed the slump in Japanese exports to this country to adverse business conditions and not to boycotts. He said that Japanese exports during the first five months of 1938 were little more than half the volume for the corresponding period of 1937.

Throughout his talk he emphasized that Japan's aims in China are to "get things in shape." He asserted that the "open door" is of no use unless the room inside is in order.

Japan Under Pressure
Japan's population pressure and her need for more resources are driving her to the Asiatic mainland, Yamamoto pointed out, that this country is smaller than the state of California, but has 77 million people and a rapid birth rate. With a small percentage of the land arable, Japanese people are pressed for even the basic food, rice.

"Rice production in Japan has fallen short of demand by about 35 million bushels a year," he said. "Her land has no natural resources. To Japan, the Asiatic land is the most important source of natural resources."

Three Million Pike Planted in Winnebago
Conservation men planted three million walleye pike in Lake Winnebago over the weekend, according to Emil Kramer, conservation warden. He was assisted in the work by members of the Outagamie Conservation club including Wilbur Steenis, president; Phalen VanRyzin, chairman of the fish planting committee; Robert Krause, Henry Walters, Everett Sell, Henry Merkel, Fred Reifeldt, J. C. Branchford and George J. Speer. The fish were secured from the conservation department's hatchery at Gills Landing.

REALTY TRANSFERS
The following real estate transfers were filed yesterday in the office of Stephen A. Peeters, Outagamie register of deeds: August Gerks to A. L. Hase, a parcel of land in the city of New London; Anna Zahrt to William Donlinger, a lot in the new Third ward, Appleton.

THE 'IDLER' GETS A NEW SPRING COAT OF PAINT
There are few places where spring finds as energetic a response as down at the Appleton Boat club. The rivermen are now busy readying their boats for summer voyages. May 15 or thereabouts is the time when most craft are launched. Sheriff John Lappen's cruiser, "Idler," was getting herself beautified when the above picture was taken. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Scraping, Painting, Calking Daily Activity at Boat Club As Season for Yachting Nears

Down at the Appleton Boat club fresh paint is drying on comfortable looking cruisers, young leaves are appearing on the group of basswood and mulberry trees near the clubhouse, and rivermen hunch over their afternoon game of schafkopf talking of coming voyages up and down the Fox and Wolf and across Lake Winnebago.

The water of the Fox, free again of snow and ice, slides by the docks, there is a hum from the Interlake mill across the river, and the yachtsmen calk their crafts and say: "Well, we'll have her in the water in a week."

The calendar has just flipped over another leaf and here is the month of May. On the Fox river, you know, May is the month when boats come down off their winter roosts and settle easily into the water. May is the month when confirmed rivermen go just a little wild inside when they see a hull gleam again and remember that cruise to Fremont last summer.

On the river, you know, May 15 is the unofficial deadline for having your boat in the water, for once more feeling the deck throb as a resourceful marine engine sputters into life, for watching the shore ship by on the way to Kimberly.

Down at the Appleton Boat club things are stirring after winter's siege. Boathouse doors that were closed for months are open again. Dusty tools have fresh funnery marks on them. A young boy races down the hillside and stops at the water's edge to watch a man scrape paint off a deck.

Perennial Card Game
If, late some afternoon, you were to walk into the main room of the clubhouse—a room designed to resemble a cruiser's cabin—you would find some of the boys hard at it over the card table. If you were to glance out the big windows, you might find a few others looking at the boats on the dock. Funny how long you can look at a boat without getting tired.

The Idler, property of Sheriff John Lappen, would be there. Forty-two feet of her. Then there's the giant of them all, the 52-foot Johanna registered in the name of William H. Storm. The Johanna, built in Manitowoc in 1906, is being prepared for a career as an excursion boat. There's the 35-foot Shenandoah owned by Cy Feller of Kaukauna and the 42-foot Edloise that belongs to Paul Stevens. The boys

Speedboat
Emil Voelckers has a 28-foot Gar Wood speedboat, reputed to do 30 odd miles an hour and there's Dr. Fardee's 32-foot Toppan cruiser, both of them still suspended above the water but ready for the dip any day.

Judge Heinemann's 47-foot Horsefeather and the club's 36-foot Whop-EE share a boathouse, along with Fritz Frank's vessel. If there is a more devoted yachtsman than Judge Heinemann, he hasn't shown up yet around the place. Without hesitation, he'll tell you the length and anything else about any craft in sight; cite the date of coming events that mean cruises.

There's the spring cruise of the Fox River Power Boat association. That will be up the Wolf river to New London, some time in June with the date still to be set. Plans for the voyage will be made at a banquet the New London club is throwing May 15.

There's Kaukauna's popular water carnival June 17 and 18. On in July and Fremont in August. There's a journey up to Green Bay for the weekend, besides the numerous private cruises.

125 Members
The Appleton Boat club, which now has 125 members, dates back to 1908. Present officers are John Balliet, commodore; Cy Feller, Kaukauna, vice commodore; Paul Stevens, rear commodore; and Harry Laabs, fleet captain.

The clubhouse is open the year around, even when winter winds are whistling down the Fox and the yachtsmen's activity is confined to the schafkopf table. In the summer the place gets constant use and there are frequent visitors from other communities in this region who drop in during a cruise.

There are always a lot of visitors, anyway, down at the Appleton Boat club during yachting season. Somehow, people who don't own boats like to ride on them. And somehow, people who own boats like to have others ride on them. Boats just seem to breed neighborliness.

New Deal and U. S. Chamber Are as Far Apart as Ever

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—Some months ago it appeared possible that the administration and business might find some way of living together in reasonable co-operation. Conditions seemed to be leading both sides into a marriage of convenience. The threatening war situation called for national unity. The disappointing progress toward recovery was not only a liability to the business community but a political liability to the administration. These two conditions, it seemed, might bring about a more tolerant working relationship between government and business.

On that theory some of the administration undertook an olive-branch campaign. Two of Roosevelt's oldest and most intimate associates, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Secretary of Commerce Hopkins, together with John Harter, under secretary of the treasury, collaborated and for a time seemed to be making headway.

But today, following the week of the United States Chamber of Commerce convention, it is clear that the section of business for which this organization speaks is further away from the administration than ever, and vice versa. The ill-feeling is mutual.

President Roosevelt and practically all New Dealers Raymond Clapper boycotted the chamber of commerce. Roosevelt was invited to speak but declined. No reason was made public but undoubtedly he did not wish to be used as a drawing card for a meeting which would devote itself largely to condemning his administration. New Dealers consider the chamber of commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers as right-wing adjuncts to the Republican party, and considerably more reactionary. The hate-Roosevelt sentiment in the chamber of commerce convention was barely concealed. Indeed Congressman Sol Bloom was booed when he defended Roosevelt at one dinner meeting and walked out in disgust. Resolutions were extremely critical of the New Deal program and went so far as to advocate complete repeal of the wages and hours act. Although the chamber's membership includes small businessmen, who are considerably more than a majority of its membership, the controlling influence is seen by the New Dealers to be big business, with utilities exercising considerable backstage influence.

Roosevelt Will Give Speech For Retailers
With that in mind, the New Dealers deliberately set out to ignore the chamber convention and to put on an administration budget of speakers at the convention of the National Retail Federation to be held here May 22. President Roosevelt will make his big economic speech of the spring. Secretary Wallace and other administration officials will be on the program.

This organization is composed of retailers, who are considered by the administration to be naturally more sympathetic with its policies since both are directly interested in increasing consumer purchasing power. Why the retailers should be more concerned than other businessmen in consumer purchasing power is a mystery, but the fact remains that the administration has been on more friendly terms with retailers' groups than with other groups of businessmen.

Now Too Late To Hope For Change Of Feeling
Even if the retailers adopt more sympathetic resolutions than the chamber of commerce did, that will do little to bring about a better feeling between the administration and the business world, because the chamber of commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers are too late for appeasement.

Catlin Speaks at Lawyers Meeting

Discusses Conservation Program Before County Bar Group

Mark Catlin, Sr. recently appointed member of the state conservation commission, was the speaker at a meeting of the Outagamie County Bar association at noon yesterday in the Conway hotel.

Catlin talked on the state conservation program, pointing out that it was important not only to the hunter or fisherman but to all of Wisconsin's residents.

The association adopted a resolution advocating passage of a senate bill No. 2985 which would amend present statutes so that review on all compensation cases could be taken into the circuit court where the cause of action arose. Under present statutes, the review in such cases goes before the Dane county circuit court.

About 20 lawyers were present at yesterday's meeting.

The New York Board of Education, as part of the course of instruction in civics, takes about 16,000 high school pupils each spring on a ferryboat trip around Manhattan Island.

Kaukauna Host to Conference for Workers' School

Forum Follows Talk on Future of Extension Division Activity

Kaukauna -- The second upstate conference and forum of the school for workers in industry for this district was held Sunday afternoon at the municipal building, with delegates and visitors attending from Algoma, Menasha, Green Bay, Appleton, Manitowish and Kaukauna.

Mr. E. E. Schwartztrauber, Madison, director of the school for workers, an arm of the extension division of the University of Wisconsin, spoke on the future of the working classes in trying to secure adult education for themselves. Following the talk an open forum was held to discuss ways and means of continuing the school.

The department of the interior furnished a fine record of some films. A committee composed of Marvin Severin, Algoma; Robert Warren, Green Bay; Arthur Kase, Menasha; and George Gorman, Kaukauna, was appointed to act during the summer months and to call a special session if necessary in July.

Brewster Chairman
At the meeting from Kaukauna were George Gorman, Henry Maes, Henry Siebers, Walter Hartzheim, Loyal Schmalz, E. Brewster and Mr. and Mrs. E. Wiedenbeck. Brewster was general chairman. From Appleton came Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert, Luedtke, Menasha, Walter Quandt, Arthur Kase, Al Kase, Fred Arndt, Arthur Kase, Syl Wallen, Orville Fleming, Norbert Quella; Neenah, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Curran; Green Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Losen; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warrens; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lawler; Manitowish, Ralph Benheim; Alameda, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Severin; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quandt.

Roland Steinle To be Speaker at Holy Name Rally

Attorney Will Address 4,000 Members at LaFollette Park

Kaukauna -- Roland Steinle, prominent Milwaukee Catholic and special prosecutor in law cases that attracted statewide attention during the last few years, will speak at the District No. 2 Holy Name rally at Kaukauna Sunday, May 21, it was announced today by John Van De Loo, general chairman.

The address will be given at LaFollette park where the 4,000 Holy Name men, expected to march in the rally, will convene after the parade through the city. Steinle will talk at 3 o'clock, and arrangements are made for a sound amplification system to take his voice to the far reaches of the park.

Steinle is well known in Wisconsin politics, having been the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in 1934. He gained attention in the probe of Waukesha county vice conditions in the last year, when he acted as special investigator and prosecutor. Steinle is state vice president of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin and is active in Knights of Columbus circles. He will speak on some subject associated with Catholicism. He addressed Kaukauna Knights of Columbus in 1935.

Outdoor Benediction
The talk by Steinle will be followed by a solemn benediction at an outdoor altar that is being built at LaFollette park. Music for the benediction will be played by the St. Mary High school band. Menasha, and hymns will be sung by the Holy Name choir that is being organized by Harold Hoolihan. The choir will include singers from Kaukauna and neighboring cities and villages.

Committee meetings are being held this week, as plans are being swung into action for the altar and band stand construction, transportation of visitors, preparation of comfort stations, and the making of traffic arrangements.

Invitations Issued For High School Prom

Kaukauna -- Invitations to out of town people to attend the 1939 Kaukauna high school junior prom, slated for Friday evening, May 12, are being mailed out this week by the invitation committee, according to Zena DeGonzalez, chairman. No local invitations are being sent, as all Kaukauna people are welcome to attend.

Faculty advisers for the various committees have been appointed by Miss Richard Feller, chairman of the prom committee. Miss Ethel DeGonzalez is chairman for invitations; Miss Ann Gilman for refreshments; Miss Frances Corbett for programs; Miss Feller for ticket sales and advertising; and Miss Feller for the band. Miss Corbett, B. D. Rice and Thomas Nuhn are decorations.

Mother of Kaukauna Woman Dies in West

Kaukauna -- Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Paul Van de Plasche, 77, Omro, who died Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Folsom, in Yakima, Wash. Mrs. Van de Plasche is the mother of Mrs. Frank M. Charlesworth, 611 W. Wisconsin avenue, at whose home she lived in the winters of 1937 and 1938. Funeral services will be held at Omro, Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Booklet to Show City's Advantages Is Taking Shape

5,000 Copies of 32-Page Kaukauna Volume Will be Printed

Kaukauna -- The booklet authorized recently by the common council to advertise Kaukauna's advantages is taking shape under the management of Francis Bowman, Madison economist engaged by the aldermen to arrange the material. Present plans call for a 32-page booklet, 8 by 11 inches, with about 5,000 copies to be printed. Of this number some 2,000 will be sent to industrial concerns, 2,000 distributed in the city and the rest kept on hand for further demands.

The cover will be orange, with black lettering, the colors of Kaukauna High school. Headings in the booklet may also be in color. Photographs for inclusion are being taken.

A brief history of the city will be given in the booklet, discussing its historical background and attractions, such as the historic Grignon home, recently purchased by the city. Another section of the publication will be devoted to the city's government. The city officers, councilmen and committees will be briefly listed, and the functions of other bodies, such as the planning board and board of public works, described. The city's tax records, relief load, outstanding indebtedness and other financial aspects will be explained.

Will Show Facilities
The functioning and assets of the utility department will be set forth. Kaukauna's fire and police and electric and water services will be described. In a section devoted to community life, the city's recreational facilities, churches, youth organizations, fraternal and civic groups, scouts and other activities will be listed.

Kaukauna's commercial and industrial life will be gone into. A map of the city's trade area will be included. The nature of present industries will be described. Another section describes the industrial opportunities available here. The city's supply of labor, freedom from strikes, available industrial sites, transportation facilities and rates, cheap power and ready access to markets—all are stressed.

Kaukauna Seeking Offers on $100,000 In Refunding Bonds

Kaukauna -- Sealed bids for $100,000 of emergency relief refunding bonds are now being sought, according to Lester J. Bronzel, city clerk. Bids will be received by the clerk up to 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening, May 16 at his office. The common council meets at that time, and oral bids also will be taken. The bonds are based upon relief expenditures of the city from 1929 to 1935. One-hundred bonds will be printed of $1,000 each, the first $10,000 to mature on May 1, 1940, and the remainder at the rate of $10,000 every May 1 until 1949. The maximum rate of interest which the city will accept is 3 per cent.

Church Society Will Stage 3-Act Comedy

Kaukauna -- The Young People's society of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church is putting on a 3-act comedy, "Things Do Happen," by G. L. Ward, at 8 o'clock Sunday evening, May 14, in the school auditorium. The cast has Earl Krueger as Harry Stone, a real estate broker; Carol Krueger as Helen Stone, his wife; Betty Jean Hass as Marion Stone, Hazel Thiel as Anna Stone, Carol Lunkke, Wilma Stone, their daughters; Gertrude Deno as Caroline Stone, unmarried sister of Harry; Beatrice Wolf as Mary Blake, the maid; Clifford Rogers as John Graham, son of the town's most prominent citizen; Kenneth Arpa as Grandpa Miller, Mrs. Stone's father; and Doris Feldt, Nora Brady, the cook.

Boy Scouts Make Plans For Overnight Outing

Kaukauna -- Plans for an overnight hike to the scout cabin in Riverside park Friday were made last night at Holy Cross scouts' meeting at Park street. Andy Lambie reported the cabin is being cleaned up at the park. Scouts will start at 8 o'clock, and the hike will be about 10 miles. A Van derheyden, scoutmaster, will be in charge Friday.

Bike Registration at Kaukauna Now at 226

Kaukauna -- Registrations last weekend brought the number of bicycle licenses now issued to 266, according to Lester J. Bronzel, city clerk. Fifty fishing licenses have been purchased.

Kissinger Birds Win Opening Race

187 Pigeons From 10 Lofts Compete in 80-Mile Contest

Kaukauna -- Two pigeons flown by Jack Kissinger of Seymour led the field home Sunday in the opening race of the season for the Kaukauna Pigeon club. It was an 80-mile event from Wisconsin Rapids for old birds. There were 187 pigeons from 10 lofts in the contest.

Kissinger's winning birds averaged 1,437 and 1,424 yards per minute. Other contestants and their averages were: Robert Bernard, Kaukauna, 1,281; Reuter brothers, Kaukauna, 1,267; Frank Heimke, Kaukauna, 1,232 and 1,246; Arthur Zuiches, Seymour, 1,076; Truitt Haessly, Kaukauna, 1,033; Sturm and Heiler, Kaukauna, 993; William Martzahl, Kaukauna, 930; Irvin Haessly, 935; Edward Ludke, Kaukauna, 883; Emmet Decker, Appleton, 841 and 768.

Thursday evening will be the setting time for the first regular average speed race. It will be 120 miles from Neillsville, Wis. Birds will be crated Friday night and released at 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

Last Sunday the pigeons were released at 7 o'clock with Kissinger's winner reaching the loft at 8:30. The weather was reported as clear, with shifting winds near home.

Star Chapter Entertains 125 Persons at Mother-Daughter Banquet at Masonic Temple

New London — A mother-daughter program featured the annual Mother-Daughter banquet of the Order of Eastern Star at the Masonic temple last evening. About 125 were present.

The mothers' greeting was extended by Mrs. William Oaks of Shiocton and the response was given by her daughter, Doris.

An outstanding number was the appearance of six little girls costumed as a sextet of old women singing "Little Old Lady." The girls were Alice Cristy, Kathleen Monsted, Marilyn Stewart, Marguerite Finger, Janet Mevenden and Sarah Jane Steinberg.

Mother and daughter numbers were given by Mrs. Ben Hartquist and Polley and Mary; Mrs. H. A. Steinberg and daughter Sarah Jane; and Mrs. J. W. Monsted and daughter Kathleen. Mrs. Hartquist read a poem, Miss Polley Hartquist rendered a vocal solo and Mary played a piano solo. Mrs. Steinberg read a tribute to motherhood while Sarah Jane played a piano lullaby. Mrs. Monsted accompanied her daughter in a song.

There were instrumental solos by Lina Lou Kellogg, Mary Dawson and Hazel Babcock; vocal solos by Caroline Hertel of Hortonville, Alice Cristy, Marilyn Meinhardt and Vernice Moser; readings by Marian, owner of Hortonville and Alice Cristy; and sections by a girls' trio with Shirley Fontstad, Millicent Blissett and Alice Stanley.

M. S. Zahrt was surprised at his home Sunday evening at a party arranged by Mrs. Zahrt in honor of his birthday anniversary. He was presented with a gift by guests who included Mr. and Mrs. Phil Court, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Helms, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Maxted, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macklin.

A 7 o'clock band supper will be held by the Methodist Men's club at the church parlors Thursday evening. A business meeting and program will follow.

Remodeling of the Methodist church will be discussed by the official church board at a meeting Friday evening. The important meeting has been postponed from Tuesday.

A mother's day program will be held at the regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary at the clubhouse Thursday evening. Mrs. R. R. Holliday is arranging the program. Cards and refreshments will follow with Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. H. E. Ehrenreich, Mrs. J. J. Kirchner, Mrs. Henry Hoffman and Mrs. Rudy Ploetz as hostesses.

Circles of the Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church are meeting this afternoon and evening. Circle 1 will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. C. C. Seims with Mrs. Milo DeGroff assisting and Circle 2 will meet at the home of Mrs. W. A. Ross with Mrs. Gordon Meiklejohn as assisting hostess. Mrs. D. E. Wendlandt and Mrs. D. H. E. Ehrenreich were hostesses to Circle 3 at the home of the former this afternoon.

Mrs. John Zitske and Mrs. Arthur Schmidt were guests of the F. F. and E. club when Mrs. Clarence Ebert entertained yesterday afternoon and the former received the guest prize. Other prizes were won by Mrs. William Breitenfeldt and Mrs. Gerhard Felsner. Mrs. Reinhold Kaepnick will entertain next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Felsner of Dale entertained at their home Sunday afternoon and evening in honor of the christening of their daughter, Karen Kay. Guests at dinner and supper were the Rev. and Mrs. W. Zink of Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Isner, Mr. and Mrs. William Breitenfeldt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kloeber and Clarence, and Mrs. Doris Sherman, all of New London, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kloeber of Neenah.

Game Club Sponsors New Brooder Project

New London — Construction of two more pleasant brooder houses and pens at Hatten Recreational park to double the 250-chick capacity of the present brooders will be started this week under sponsorship of the New London Fish and Game club, according to Rudy Ploetz, president. The pens, 80 by 100 feet, will be constructed by park relief labor with materials provided by the club.

Both the old and the new pens will be covered with wire netting this year to allow the club to raise older pheasants without clipping their wings. A shipment of 500 day-old chicks is expected from the state game farm near the end of this month and with proper facilities the club hopes to secure more older birds later in the hatching season.

Evangelical League in Meeting at Black Creek

Black Creek — Miss Edna Thomas was the leader Friday evening at the meeting of the Evangelical League of St. John Evangelical church. The Rev. A. F. Grolmus gave the prayer and Miss Dorothy Anne Kluge read the scripture lesson. Miss Frieda Gregorius led the topic, "Choosing a Christian Vocation." Miss Bernice Blake led the responsive reading and John Kluge gave an oration.

Members of the class which was confirmed this spring were guests at the meeting.

At the business meeting plans were made for the annual confirmation reunion to be held May 28 at which time a one act play, "Half of Mr. Goods," will be presented by the league, the author being Ralph T. Clazzer.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church has postponed their meeting to May 18.

BAND'S YOUNGEST

New London — At the age of 9, Dale Schoenrock, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Schoenrock, 400 W. Cook street, is the youngest member ever admitted to an organized music group in New London Public schools. He was placed in the Junior High school band last year at the age of 8 by M. S. Zahrt, supervisor of music. Because his hands are so small and he wanted to play the clarinet, he was given the tiny E flat instrument. He is shown above displaying the new cap and uniform which the Junior band will wear for the first time at the pre-tournament concert of all music groups at the Washington High school auditorium at 7:30 Wednesday evening. # 27 Cities Represented in Solo and Ensemble Contests at Clintonville District Festival

Clintonville — Large crowds of students and visitors from 27 nearby cities attended the solo and ensemble contests of the district music festival held in Clintonville Saturday. Beginning at 8:30 in the morning and continuing to 5:30 in the afternoon, various contests were held in eight halls of the city. Solos and ensembles were presented at the armory, the Grand theater, Finney library, Masonic temple, Congregational church, St. Martin Lutheran church, St. Martin school and the high school.

Judging the contests were: S. E. Meier, instrumental director at Whitewater State Teachers college; Benny Ehr, woodwind instructor at Madison; Jay Williams, instrumental director at Appleton High school; Harvey Krueger, instrumental director at Milwaukee; Leon Illis of the University of Wisconsin School of Music; Paul Jones of the University of Wisconsin School of Music; A. H. Schluenn and Miss Josephine Darrin of Wausau.

Outstanding musicians of the day's events presented a concert before a huge crowd at the armory at 7:30 in the evening. Also contributing several numbers to the program was a massed band of 100 pieces from the various schools represented at the festival.

Larger crowds are expected in Clintonville next Saturday, May 13, when the bands from the 27 schools gather here for their contests and for a large parade at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. There will also be a program in the evening at the armory. Besides the bands, there will be orchestras, glee clubs and choruses taking part in the day's activities.

Ted Shawn and Dance Troupe Stage 3-Act American Saga For Enthusiastic Audience

BY YVONNE CATLIN

All expectations of a worthwhile performance were fulfilled by Ted Shawn and his troupe of men dancers when they presented "O, Libertad," an American saga in three acts, before an enthusiastic audience last night at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

The program, a rhythmic biography of our country, covered a wide range of subjects and expertly combined dance, music, costume and tragedy. All of the dances in the production were created by Shawn, with the exception of "Olympiad," and adapted to music by Jess Meeker, accompanist for the group.

The dancers, costumed in colorful barbaric splendor, opened the

Students Busy With Parties. School Events

APPLETON girls away at school are busy these days not only with their studies but also with the parties and traditional ceremonies that always come with May and graduation time. At Pomona college, Claremont, Calif., much of Miss Ruth Orblison's time this week is occupied with her duties as advertising and costume chairman for the annual May Day Masque, to be held at the end of the week. An impressive spectacle, the Masque is presented in an amphitheater and features the crowning of the may queen. Miss Orblison, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Orblison, 214 S. ## St. John Lutheran Church of Center Will Celebrate Its 75th Anniversary on Sunday

WHEN St. John Lutheran church, town of Center, celebrates its seventy-fifth anniversary next Sunday, the sons of two former pastors of the church will be guest speakers. The Rev. Arnold Eickmann, Dakota, Minn., will preach at the 10 o'clock service in the morning, and the Rev. Theodore Schoewe, Plainview, Minn., will speak at the afternoon service at 2:30.

The Rev. Eickmann is the son of the Rev. Martin Eickmann who became pastor of the Center church in 1882, and the Rev. Gustave Schoewe who served the congregation from 1891 to 1908.

On May 14, 1864, a group of Lutherans in the town of Center bought a parcel of land and soon after erected a modest church building. Since the region with the exception of small clearings was heavily wooded, it was natural that they build a log house as their first house of worship. Since it was one of the first Lutheran churches in Outagamie county, it drew members from a great distance, and soon the log church became too small. In 1872 a frame church of larger dimensions, surmounted by a 104-foot steeple, was erected.

Hit By Lightning
This building was struck by lightning and burned to the ground on Oct. 2, 1892, and the following year another frame church of somewhat larger size was built on the same site. This structure still serves the congregation as a place of worship, but in recent years it has been modernized and beautified, kerosene lamps giving way to electric lights and hot air furnaces replacing antiquated stoves. The interior was redecorated, an electric organ was installed and the outside of the building clad with asbestos shingles. A few weeks ago several stained glass windows were installed.

Before the erection of the log church, pioneer Lutherans met in the houses of members for worship. They were served by pastors from Appleton until 1871. Dissatisfied with this arrangement for various reasons, the Center congregation together with St. Peter's church of the town of Freedom called the Rev. J. Haase to serve as pastor. In 1873 the congregation obtained its first resident pastor, the Rev. Philip Sprengling, who was an active missionary and organized and served other congregations in the neighborhood including Trinity in the town of Ellington. In 1882 the Rev. Martin Eickmann followed him as pastor of the parish which at the time included two congregations in the town of Black Creek. The Rev. Gustave Schoewe who organized Immanuel Lutheran church in the village of Black Creek served from 1891 to 1908.

The three Black Creek congregations later formed a new parish and called their own pastor. The Rev. Walter Haase served the Center congregation from 1909 to 1920, and since then the Rev. A. Werner has been pastor. From 1917 to 1929 the pastors of St. John's also served St. Matthews of Twelve Corners.

The earliest records indicate that there were 16 members of the congregation when it was organized, and by 1868 the number had increased to 56. At present the congregation has 84 voting members, 12 lay members, 286 communicants and 376 souls.

SCENE OF DIAMOND JUBILEE

St. John Lutheran church, town of Center, above, will celebrate its diamond jubilee next Sunday with services at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 2:30 in the afternoon. Sons of two former pastors will speak, the Rev. Arnold Eickmann of Dakota, Minn., in the morning and the Rev. Theodore Schoewe of Plainview, Minn., in the afternoon. The male quartet of the Lutheran theological seminary at Thilensville will sing at both services, and Theodore Boettcher, principal of Trinity Lutheran school at Kaukauna, will be organist.

Shower Is Given for

Miss Margaret Schaefer

A miscellaneous shower was given Monday night at the home of Mrs. Christina Schaefer, 154 S. Lee street, in honor of her daughter, Margaret, who will be married May 27 to Richard Monte, Kimberly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Siebold, Oshkosh. The evening was spent playing cards, dice and other games, prizes at cards going to Mrs. Harry Cotter, Mrs. Ernest Buss and Mrs. William Cotter; at dice by Mrs. Ray Ellenbecker, Miss Margaret Schaefer and Miss Ruth Van Drasek; and at games to Mrs. Ted Barbier and Mrs. Emil Helm. Mrs. Ellenbecker also won the special prize. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ted Barbier, Alabama; Miss Ruth Van Drasek and Mrs. Carl Kessler, Kaukauna; and Mrs. Norbert Wyden, Kimberly.

Be A Careful Driver

Pegler Doesn't Think Much Of Southern Klan Activities

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

Nashville, Tenn.—While bouncing briskly over the southern tier your correspondent picked up a paper containing a picture of a masked and hooded Ku Klux Klanman with a symbolic lynching robe in hand, who rode through certain Miami streets, with others, in an effort to impress the Negroes of that city with the inappropriateness and danger of voting in a local election. Now, with full recognition of the many esthetic and substantial virtues of Miami, one should bear in mind, nevertheless, that she is a minor place and avoid overemphasis. Ordinarily, at this season of the year, Miami should be forgotten and allowed to proceed with her housework, to tidy up after the latest batch of contented guests and prepare to delight the next.

The Ku Klux Klan, however, always is newsworthy, and this latest exertion of these guardians of the American home and civic purity prompts a few observations on a band of patriots who once were united in sacred, unflinching bond with Mr. Justice Hugo Black, of the United States Supreme Court. It is well known that Miami and certain of her suburbs have become the winter quarters and the off-season field of operations of the surviving executives of the Al Capone gang, and it is accepted in Miami that when Capone leaves prison he will make his home there and resume his career. Bootlegging, of course, is out, and the real business is so troublesome that it is hardly worth the genius of a real master. But gambling, on the horses and slot machines and in large rooms, is an industry which has a firm voice in the local government and that of the state as well. As Rhode Island discovered a few years ago when Walter O'Hara, of the Narragansett track, threatened to remove an untractable governor, gambling, with its vast sums of ready cash, tend to grow arrogant toward public officials and people. And officials and other politicians, knowing the power of cash money, submit to the gamblers or shake them down.

They Know Chicago

Gangsters Are Moving In

Of course, the Miami members of the Ku Klux Klan know that a gang of Chicago criminals have taken over two racing plants in their midst. That Hialeah, a Miami suburb, is being shaped into the Cicero of the south, that a gamblers' lobby operates brazenly in the legislature in Tallahassee and that accusations of bribery are common in the politics of the state, Ernest Graham, a Miami state senator, who is running a rather inept legislative inquiry, openly asserts that many, though not all, members of the legislature are grafters who accept bribes from gamblers and tell of having been threatened by criminals of the underworld when he was campaigning for election. Men with police records elsewhere move into the community as businessmen without protest from the members of the Ku Klux Klan, and the suspicion cannot be avoided that the dunce cap of the crusader often hides the face of a crook who himself has been taking graft from gangsters attracted from the north.

If the Ku Klux Klan contained clean men with the courage to show their faces and a real interest in rooting out the Chicago-Cicero mob of racketeers the thing would not be hard to do, for the evidence of corruption is flaunted rather than concealed. But the Klan never bothers hoodlums, whose murderous nature was made known in the bloody

Wars of Chicago. This difference may be attributed as much to embarrassment as to the physical shrinkage of men who go marked,

because a combing of the roster

Pegler

would reveal crusaders who have done business under the stars.

The klansmen know who the racketeers are, know them by sight and know where they live. If the Klan of Miami ever summons the courage to make a pass at the Capone mob that will be news, indeed.

Guests From West At Steinhauer Home

Mr. and Mrs. Max Steinhauer, Seattle, Wash., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Mike Steinhauer, 714 N. Bateman street.

Dr. R. C. Joyce will leave this evening to attend the Southwestern Wisconsin Dental association meeting which will be in session Wednesday and Thursday at Madison.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Applications for marriage licenses were filed today at the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, by the following couples: Leo E. Hughes, route 3, Appleton, and Marjorie M. Dorschner, route 2 Appleton; Adolph Sauer, route 3, Neenah; and Josephine O'Dell, Appleton; Joseph R. Van de Voort, route 2, Kaukauna; and Helen M. Hermen, route 1, Appleton; Henry E. Pekel, Appleton, and Margaret L. Hinzman, route 2, Appleton.

For the mob is so confident and arrogant and everybody in town has so much on everybody else that the hoodlums would chase the Ku Klux Klan right out into the bay.

Waldtenfel Waltz Will be Played in Symphony Concert

A waltz by Emil Waldtenfel, a German composer who is among the "lesser knowns" in music familiar to Americans, will be one of the selections played by the Appleton Symphony orchestra in its second and final concert Thursday evening in Memorial chapel.

The number is entitled "España Waltz" and has a lilting movement suggestive of Spain.

Although not widely known in America, Waldtenfel was very popular in Germany, some of his waltzes rivaling those written by the famous Johann Strauss.

He was born at Straussberg, Dec. 9, 1837. After preliminary study from his father, he went to Paris to study under Marmontel and Laurent at the Conservatory. He then worked in a piano factory, but the success of his first waltzes, which he published at his own expense, made him turn entirely to composition. He was chamber pianist to Empress Eugenie, director of court balls, and made successful concert tours. He died in 1915.

Tickets are on sale at Belling's Drug store and Meyer-Seeger Music company.

Girl Scout Troop

Extinguishes Grass

Fire on Field Trip

A field trip which a group of Girl Scouts of New London Troop 1 took to Poppies Rock last Saturday turned into a fire-fighting drill for the girls. While picking flowers in the pine grove belonging to Jacob Manki, the burning area covering about 50 square yards.

Using sticks and pails of dirt carried over a fence from a nearby field, the girls succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The fire is believed to have been started by picnickers.

The scouts include Betty and Patricia Barlow, Jean Smith, Edna and Hazel Babcock. The troop is under the leadership of Mrs. Williams Gens.

Hollywood—After a day at sea with the "Ruler of the Seas" company, I'm willing to nominate Director Frank Lloyd as Hollywood's No. 1 glutton for punishment. Mr. Lloyd, for years, has been an absolute passion for sea stories. Between assignments to direct maritime dramas, he dreams up other maritime dramas to direct, haunts the front offices of studios urging the advisability of making new sea epics and, in short, gives neither the producers or himself a minute's peace until he is afloat again. And what a beating he takes when production is underway! A thousand and one difficulties confront him that the average director never needs to face.

There's the matter of fog, which persistently shrouds the briny. On "Mutiny on the Bounty," for instance, he lost nearly two months waiting for clear weather. He must have clouds because without them the ship appears to be standing still. He must have enough wind to kick up waves, but not enough wind to interfere with the maneuvering of the boat. Try to find the perfect conditions that are requisite for his type of picture, even in the coastal waters of sunny California, and you'll see my point. Lloyd is lucky if he can shoot one day out of three. Meanwhile, of course, the studio budgeters wait and tear their hair.

Then there's the little matter of sea-sickness, which daily lays half the troupe low. And the problem of keeping discipline on those days when adverse conditions leave the company idle. I've heard Lloyd say, time and again, that he'll never make another sea picture, but he always comes back for more.

Milwaukee Host To Convention of Lutheran Church

Rev. F. C. Reuter, G. A. Lemke at District Sessions This Week

The Rev. F. C. Reuter, pastor of First English Lutheran church, and G. A. Lemke, delegate from the congregation, are in Milwaukee this week attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin district of American Lutheran church which is in session from today through Friday at St. Paul Lutheran church there. The convention opened at 9 o'clock this morning and will close Friday afternoon. Last Sunday the first convention of the Fox River Valley Association of Brotherhoods took place at the local church.

Mothers and daughters of Emmanuel Evangelical church will have a pot-luck supper at 7 o'clock Friday night at the church. A rummage sale is planned by the Social Aid for Wednesday morning at the church with Mrs. Marvin Zahler as chairman. A number of people from the local church attended a missionary rally last Sunday at Center Evangelical church, at which the Rev. G. Busacco, in charge of Italian missionary work in Kenosha, was speaker.

The annual meeting of Appleton Apostolate will take place Wednesday evening at Columbia hall. The Senior Catholic Youth Organization of St. Mary church will meet at 8:15 Thursday night at Columbia hall.

Chief White Eagle, Indian evangelist, is speaking at a series of special services at 7:45 each evening this week at New Appleton Tabernacle.

Communion Sunday

The confirmation class of 30 young people who were confirmed last Sunday morning at Zion Lutheran church will receive communion at 7 o'clock next Sunday evening at the church, together with their parents and friends. At the confirmation service the Rev. Theodore Marth preached on "Take Our Life, Lord, Into Thy Keeping." Deacons and deaconesses of First Baptist church will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening at the church. Last Sunday morning the Rev. R. H. Spangler, pastor, gave a sermon

RECEIVES FIRST PENSION CHECK

Greeting Colonel William H. Holden of the Wisconsin Veterans' Home is Edwin H. Tarbox, who has received his first pension check from the war department for five years of active service during the Indian hostilities from 1877 to 1882. Mrs. Tarbox is shown holding the check, and Francis J. Meinhardt, Waupaca county Veterans' Service officer, whose efforts brought about the red-letter day, is shown at the right. The picture was taken Saturday afternoon in front of the office at the Veterans' Home.

entitled "The Story of the Church from the Time of the Reformation." Miss Mary E. Branch, president of Tillotson college, Austin, Texas, was guest preacher at the morning service Sunday at First Congregational church. Special events for this week at the Congregational church include a Boy Scout supper from 5 to 7 o'clock Wednesday night at the church, a C. Y. W. W. supper meeting Tuesday night at which Saburo Watanabe, Japanese student at Lawrence college, will speak, and various circle meetings.

Speaks at Temple

Miss Rena Baldwin, returned missionary from south China, will speak at a special missionary service this evening at the Gospel temple. Last Sunday the Rev. C. D. Goudie, pastor, preached in the morning on "Christ the Indwelling Saviour" and in the evening on "The World's Beatitudes."

At First Methodist church last Sunday morning Dr. Harry C. Culver, pastor, gave a sermon entitled "Choose Your Past," while at Memorial Presbyterian church the Rev. Robert K. Bell, pastor, preached on "Pressure versus Poise."

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon for Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist. The following passage was taken from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "For right reasoning there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence. Science reveals material man as never the real being. The dream or belief goes on, whether our eyes are closed or open. God's children already created will be cognized only as man finds the truth of being."

SWORD MAN WILLS BODY

Francis McLone, who in pre-war days was well known as Chevalier Chiquet, sword swallower, has died at the Royal Infirmary in Oldham, England. After a demonstration many years ago before the Chicago College of Surgeons he was offered a life pension if he would agree to leave his body for research purposes. He refused, but a few days before his last operation he bequeathed his body to the Oldham infirmary.

Veteran of Indian Campaigns Receives U. S. Pension Check

Waupaca—Friday was a red letter day for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Tarbox, who have waited more than twenty years for recognition to come to Mr. Tarbox from the war department of his activities in the zone of Indian hostilities during the years from 1877 to 1882. A check of $55 was received from the department Friday, although the word that a pension had been awarded first came Feb. 11.

Francis J. Meinhardt, veterans' service officer, and Colonel William Holden of the Wisconsin Veterans' Home, convinced the war department that Mr. Tarbox was entitled to the award. In November, 1938, the first endorsement from the department was received admitting that Tarbox had enlisted Oct. 18, 1877, at Columbus Barracks, Ohio, was stationed at Ft. Totten, Dakota Territory, and was honorably discharged Oct. 17, 1882. He served as a trumpeter in Company C of the 17th United States infantry.

Since 1928 Mr. Tarbox, through his congressman, has presented his bill to each session of congress without result.

Mr. Meinhardt is also convinced that the pensioner is entitled to 11 years of back pension, but further proof will be required to bring that about.

Mr. Tarbox recalls his acquaintance with the only survivor of General Custer's ill-fated troop at the battle of the Little Big Horn in the Black Hills of Montana. The man went through the Indian line when his horse became wild with fear, and the Indians, naturally suspicious of both crazed man and horse, left him unharmed. Kohn was killed some time later on White River expedition.

Mr. Tarbox prides himself on his acquaintance with several soldiers of the Reno outfit which was to have aided Custer but arrived too late.

Before coming to Waupaca to make his home in 1912, Mr. Tarbox was a driver for the Dixon Trans-acting company in Chicago. After establishing his residence in Waupaca he worked for several years for the American Railway Express company.

On July 12 Mr. Tarbox will be 60 years old. In addition to receiving the long sought for pension, he will be accorded all the military honors due an honorably discharged veteran. He will also be eligible to admission into the Wisconsin Veterans Home and complete protection will also be afforded Mrs. Tarbox.

Congregation Has Its Annual Meeting at Hortonville Church

Hortonville—The annual business meeting of the Community Baptist church congregation was held Friday evening. Reports were received from the pastor, Sunday school, Ladies Aid society, church clerk, and other departments of the church. The reports showed that the church has been for many years, and progress by the Sunday school and Ladies Aid society. One hundred and ten members were present.

Deaconesses, trustees and finance committee members remain unchanged. Deacons elected are Frank Grant, until 1940; Will Breitrick, 1941, and Emmett Root, 1940.

The following were re-elected: Mrs. Eliza Douglas, church clerk; Mrs. Sadie McElroy, treasurer; Emmett Root, assistant treasurer; Mrs. J. O. Birmingham, benevolence treasurer; Elmer Root, Sunday school superintendent; Mrs. J. W. Haughton, assistant superintendent; James Castellon, usher; Mrs. J. O. Birmingham, in charge of missionary reading, and Mrs. Charles Schroeder, in charge of the cradle roll.

Christian Mothers' society of Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic church will hold their regular meeting Tuesday evening in the basement of the Community hall. A social hour will be held after the meeting.

May devotions will be held at 7:30 Friday evening at Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Steffen and two children of Lena spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Steffen's sister, Mrs. Charles Krueger and family, Hortonville. They visited at the Harry Steffen and A. L. Collar homes also.

The following persons from Oak Park and Chicago, Ill., attended the Hortonville High school prom Friday evening and spent the weekend with relatives and friends in Hor-

Lunch and a social hour followed the meeting. The hostesses were Mrs. August Becker and Mrs. Flora Seefeldt.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Nickell spent Monday and Tuesday with relatives at Beaver Dam.

Parish Card Party to Be Held at School Hall

Little Chute—An open card party will be sponsored by the members of St. John parish at the school hall Tuesday evening. Bridge, schafkopf and rummy will be played.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Muntwyler and son, Carl Muntwyler, Fred Buchman, John Buchman, Jr. Leonard Muntwyler, Bud Morard, Lorna Nesbitt and Eugene and Roger Giese.

Prizes will be awarded and a luncheon will be served.

The Rev. Martin Vander Loop of Valer, Mont., the Rev. John Vander Loop of Sunburst, Mont., Sister Mary Cornelia, Sister Mary Esther and Sister Mary Arnold of Racine arrived here Friday having been called home because of the serious illness of their father, Arnold Vander Loop, Wilson street.

The choir of St. John church will meet for a rehearsal Tuesday evening after the church services.

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Bell entertained at a dinner at their home Sunday evening. Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. E. Munert and Mr. and Mrs. J. Carlson of Oconto.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

THE "FUNNY BONE"

No man would want to lose his "strong right arm." For that matter, no one would care to lose his left arm! Most of us are right-handed, and the left arm is not so strong, but it surely has its place! After a boy grows to be several years old, he is likely to start to "show his muscle." He doubles his fist, and bends his arm, and perhaps proudly proves to a friend that his muscle is of good size, and at least fairly hard. (I did that many a time in my boyhood!) The muscle the boy shows is known as the "biceps," pronounced "by-seps." It is located on the "front" of the upper arm. The biceps is important, but it is by no means the only arm muscle. There is a triceps (try-seps) muscle along the back of the upper arm, and it makes the arm straight again after we bend it. Other muscles draw the arm across the chest, and a shoulder muscle gives us power to raise the arm above the head. There are only three bones in the arm, between the shoulder and wrist. One of these bones is in the upper arm, the other two are in the forearm. It is interesting to test the arm to see how much easier it is to twist the forearm than the upper arm. We have very little twisting power over the upper arm. We must thank small muscles in the forearm for the power they give to move the forearm in several ways. Without muscles, the bones could not be turned. The two bones in the forearm, and the way they are joined at the elbow, explain, however, much of our power over this part of the arm. The elbow is a joint which acts like a hinge. No hinge for a door is so cleverly made as the one we have in the elbow! At one time or another, you must have found out something about your "funny bone" or "crazy bone." If we have the ill fortune to be struck on a certain part of the elbow, it gives us a tingling and rather painful feeling. In real fact, there is no special "funny bone." What we do is to strike the elbow in such a way that the ulnar nerve is squeezed against the end of a long bone. This nerve runs along the inner side of the arm, and rests on a bone at the elbow. The arm contains a network of arteries and veins as well as nerves. The arteries carry blood from the heart to the cells in the arm, and the blood gives the cells food and oxygen. The veins, on the other hand, run back toward the heart, and the blood in them carries waste products from the cells. (For General Interest section of your scrapbook.) # Phil Cavaretta Is Lost to Cubs

Returns to Lineup and Breaks Ankle Sliding Into Second

CHICAGO WINS, 4-2

Carl Hubbell on Mound For Two Frames for Losing Giants

NEW YORK—(P)—The Chicago Cubs won the ball game yesterday, but they lost Right-fielder Phil Cavaretta.

In the second inning of the game, which eventually went to the Cubs, 4 to 2, Cavaretta stole second, but in sliding into the bag his right foot caught and he broke his ankle. He was carried off the field and to a hospital, where an X-ray examination revealed the fracture.

Ironically, today's game marked Cavaretta's first return to the lineup since he was benched a week ago.

Big Bill Lee, the "lifesaver" of the Cubs' 1938 pennant drive, was the whole show in setting down the Giants. He held Bill Terry's outfit to nine hits and contributed a home run and two singles on the attack, scoring two runs. His first hit started off the three-run third-inning rally which put the game on ice for the Cubs and sent Hal Schumacher down to defeat.

King Carl Hubbell, for 11 years the ace of Giant pitchers, made his first pitching appearance since having his arm operated on last winter. He did right well in two innings of work, holding the Cubs hitless through the last two innings, fanning two in the ninth.

PITCHER HITS FOR WIN
Boston—(P)—Pirate Pitcher Jim Tobin, stepping to the plate in the ninth with two out and Pittsburgh and Boston deadlocked at 2-2, lined out a timely double yesterday to score Lee Handley and win his own game, 3 to 2. It was Boston's fifth consecutive setback.

Handley had doubled off Freddie Frankhouse, who pitched the last inning and was charged with the defeat. Tobin held the Bees to five hits.

The Pirates scored two runs in the second when Deacon Danny MacFayden was touched for a double by Gus Suhr and singles by Wilbur Erubaker and Handley. MacFayden gave up seven hits in eight innings.

Boston scored one of the fourth on a triple by Debs Garms and a single by Buddy Hassett. The Bees tied the count in the eighth when Max West, batting for Johnny Coney, doubled, scoring Jimmy Outlaw, who was running for MacFayden, from first base.

MARTIN STEALS HOME
Brooklyn—(P)—The old Wild Hoss of the Oage, Pepper Martin, stole home in the sixth inning with the only run of the ball game yesterday to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 1 to 0 victory over the Dodgers.

He had singled to start the inning, took second and third on infield outs and went home as Brooklyn's rookie pitcher, Russ Evans, held the ball in his hand until it was too late.

The run gave Lefty Bob Weiland the decision over Evans in a tight pitchers' duel, although the Dodgers out-hit the Cards, 6 to 5.

The victory boosted the Cards into a second place tie with the Dodgers in the National league standings.

STATE ELKS DOUBLES CHAMPIONS

Menasha—Two veteran Menasha keggers, E. Ostertag and Dick Tuchscherer, who have competed in many a tournament, combined to win the doubles championship of the Elks state bowling tournament at Appleton during the last week of April. The pair hit 1,293 with Ostertag setting the pace with a 684 count and Tuchscherer coming through with a 609 total. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Scribe Says Millenium Has Arrived for Brooklyn Fans

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK—(P)—Melio Bettina (he's the light-heavy champ in New York state) will take John Henry Lewis' place in that London bout provided he doesn't sign to fight Billy Conn in Pittsburgh in the meantime. . . . Just about the best pitching in the National league has put those Brooks up there in second place. . . . Reno charged $5.50 tops for a look at Galento. Whoops! . . . Gabby Hartnett has benched Billy Herman, Hank Leiber and Joe Marty—some say for not hitting; some for not hustling. . . . Incidentally, one of the first string Chicago sports writers still wants to bet the Cubs wind up in the second division.

M. Ignace Sneed, Dr. Robert Dyer told a clinic of pro golf.

Chicago Youth Has Hurdled 2 No-Hitters

Chicago—(P)—Don't be surprised if the baseball season begins swarming when Lane Tech high of Chicago has a game.

If they do, they'll doubtless be watching young Herb Chmiel, southpaw, with plenty on the ball. Chmiel has pitched two complete games, allowing no runs and no hits in either game. His victims were Amundsen high, 3 to 0, and Schurz high, 14 to 0.

By Weiland, Coscarart. Losing pitcher—Yankee.

PHIL BEAT VANDER MEER
Philadelphia—(P)—Those fighting Philles came up with a five run rally in the eighth inning yesterday to knock Johnny Vander Meer off the box and beat the first place Cincinnati Reds, 8 to 7.

The veteran Chuck Klein, pinch hitting for Pitcher Max Butcher, hit the center field wall for a triple with the bases full and then scored the winning run on Leavett Scott's double to left.

Vander Meer, although wild, enjoyed a three run lead going into the eighth and seemed well on his way to his first victory when the Phils started. With one down, Merrill May walked, Pinky Whitney singled, George Scharen walked, filling the bases. Vander Meer pitched three straight balls to Spud Davis, then was replaced by Big Jim Weaver. Davis was walked, forcing in May and setting the stage for Klein's three-bagger. Emmett Mueller fanned but Scott doubled, sending Weaver to the showers. Eugene Thompson replaced him and got Gil Brank on a grounder to Bill Werber.

Babe Dahlgren, Stymied by Foxx and Gehrig, Gets Big Opportunity as Lou Steps Down

NEW YORK—(P)—One of baseball's "hard luck guys" finally got his chance when Lou Gehrig's legs ran down.

When Gehrig, slow afoot and weak at bat, voluntarily requested on May 2 that he be replaced—snapping his record consecutive game string at 2,130 games—Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees sent Ellsworth (Babe) Dahlgren out to play first base.

For the last four years Dahlgren's ambitions to play first for a major-league team has been stymied by Jimmy Foxx and Gehrig.

Theories Troubled Him
Babe came to the Boston Red Sox in 1925 after a fine minor-league career with the Missions in the Pacific coast league.

He played first that season, but the strain of trying to make good and listening to too many different theories about hitting was too much. He wound up with a weak batting average. During the winter the Red Sox bought Jimmy Foxx from Philadelphia.

And Babe never got another chance to play first.

He was sent to Syracuse, where he had a good season, in 1926. Then the Yankees bought him. He played first during the spring sessions. But when Gehrig, a temporary holdout, signed his contract, Dahlgren was shipped to Newark. He played third base and hit .340 for Newark. Last season he was a utility infielder with the Yankees.

Down in St. Petersburg, Fla., last spring, Babe played first for the Yankees in several games and sported one of the best batting averages of any Yankee player during the exhibitions.

When the season opened Lou was back on first and Babe loafed on the bench. But, with Gehrig out, Babe's chance has finally come. Sure he won't falter this time as he did four years ago in his first opportunity.

DIMAG Absence Helps Him
Babe is 26 years old and stand an even 6 feet. He weighs 193. He hails from San Francisco.

The injury of another San Francisco star—Joe DiMaggio—also played a part in Babe's selection to replace Gehrig. For some time Manager McCarthy has indicated that he was training Fly-Chaser Tommy Henrich to succeed Gehrig. However, with DiMaggio out in late April, the Yankees were short on outfielders and Henrich was needed in the garden.

So, for the first time since George Herman Ruth moved on in 1934, the Yankees have another "Babe" in the lineup.

Manitowoc Plans Tennis Tourney
Thirteenth Annual Meet Is Scheduled for May 27 to 30

Manitowoc—Arrangements are going forward for the 13th annual Lakeshore Tennis championships, the first major tournament of the season in Wisconsin, to be held on the clay courts at Manitowoc, Memorial day weekend, May 27-30. The tournament is under the auspices of the Manitowoc Town Racquet club and is sanctioned by the Wisconsin Tennis association, the Western Lawn Tennis association and the U.S.L.T.A. Events will include men's singles, men's doubles and women's singles.

The three year Earl Vits' traveling trophy will be up for competition in the men's singles. Robert Borchardt of Mattoon, Ill., former University of Wisconsin captain, has two legs on this prize, as does Donald Leavens, former national boys champion. Borchardt has teamed with Ward Parker of St. Louis, former Wisconsin university player, for the past two years to hold two legs on the Guido Rahr doubles trophy. The women's singles was won last year by Miss Edna Smith of Cleveland, Ohio, who was ranked number two by the Western Lawn Tennis association.

An exceptionally good field of entrants is expected this year. Interest in women's tennis is on the rise and it is hoped that this tournament will provide further stimulation and recognition. Inquiries regarding the tournament will be welcomed and may be sent to the Town Racquet club, Manitowoc, Wis.

Bill Mullen Defeats Heide in H. S. Boxing
Appleton High school boxers continued their elimination bouts yesterday afternoon at the school gymnasium. Kamps and Ellefson clashed in the 108 pound class with Kamps returned the winner.

Coley and Wiese tangled at 100 pounds with Coley being the more clever and getting the nod.

Miller slugged his way to a win over Wettengel at 145 pounds by a fairly large margin.

Dominofski was too experienced and hit harder to defeat Thomas at 132 pounds.

Another go in the 132-pound class.

Lou Ambers Turns in 5th Straight Victory
Philadelphia—(P)—Former lightweight Lou Ambers' winning streak is still holding up.

The Herkimer, N. Y., fighter scored his fifth straight victory last night by blasting out a 10-round decision over Jimmy Vaughn, of Cleveland.

Ambers, who at 138½ outweighed his opponent by only half a pound, floored the Clevelander in the first round and staggered him in nearly all of the following nine rounds.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees gives a few tips to Ellsworth (Babe) Dahlgren, the utility infielder he chose to replace Lou Gehrig at first base.

Chaff'n Chatter

By Gordon H. McIntyre

THE FOX RIVER VALLEY CONFERENCE, which has been the something or other of idealism in high school sports for several years, seems to be suffering a change of heart, forced or otherwise. We are referring to the turnover of coaches in the circuit.

Oshkosh, where they have hired and fired grid coaches with considerable regularity, is seeking a new coach who will be director of athletics and head football coach. Several "big" names have been mentioned for the position, among them Ray Hamann, coach at Kimberly High school, and Donald "Red" Martin, assistant grid coach and basketball coach at Ripon college.

The desire for victories has prompted most of the changes in coaches in the conference, a desire that sometimes had its inception among school board members and other times among principals, although both groups will deny it all in their very best manners and words.

But back of it all is the winning complex they have at Green Bay as is shown by the fact East and West annually dominate in the major sports. And it seems odd that these principals and school boards don't recognize the fact that Bay teams win because of the athletic background of the boys—and that their own schools lose because of the failure in the background.

Some of the schools have seen the light, however, notably Manitowoc and Fond du Lac. As a result both have inaugurated athletic programs in their junior high schools that will build football and basketball talent for the senior schools.

Appleton never has had an athletic program to develop football talent and it has regularly fallen short of top honors in the sport. In basketball there once was a fine junior high school league with the two Appleton schools, Neenah, Menasha and Kaukauna. Then New London was added to the league and someone here objected to the traveling of 22 miles and the Appleton teams withdrew breaking up the loop. It took the keen edge of competition out of the sport and interest fell off and with it the talent failed to develop. And if you'll examine the records you'll find that Appleton senior high school basketball hasn't done so well since.

This question of athletics for all and interscholastic athletics has been argued a long, long time. But so long as schools have interscholastic athletics they might just as well strive for the best and to do so must offer competition early to develop talent. Talent will never develop in "sociable" competition and when it is thrown into interscholastic competition, it finds itself badly handicapped.

Speaking of coaching changes, there'll be a new game coach at Fond du Lac next season. Mike Calvano handled the job last winter when Ed Fruth stepped out but football and basketball are a big job and Calvano will stick to football and let someone else worry about basketball.

Monroe Manley, principal of Shiocton High school in the Little Nine, can be depended upon to rib his conference associates no end. After the conference cussed and discussed basketball referees recently, and four schools indicated caution over Lars Thune, Green Bay West, who is a regular official in the Fox River Valley circuit and a former Marinette high basketball coach, Manley suggested the conference play midweek games when it could get better officials for less money. You got something there, Monroe.

Little Nine conference track teams will gather at Whiting field of Lawrence college on May 16 and the next day Central Wisconsin teams will show. On May 22, the winners of the first three places in each conference meet will clash here.

The Appleton softball season opens this evening when the American Industrial league shows at Roosevelt school diamond. But it isn't the league it used to be, with all due credit to its officers. There are only six teams and two are from out of Appleton.

We wonder how long it will be before someone starts a move for a major football league showing the city's best teams, and several minor leagues. They'll have to be organized if the sport is to continue and hold interest of the fans. If Appleton had a recreational program like many other state cities, all that would be taken care of. And perhaps the major league would play night games at the Spencer street athletic field and the gate would help defray expenses of the lights being installed.

Bill Mullen Defeats Heide in H. S. Boxing
Appleton High school boxers continued their elimination bouts yesterday afternoon at the school gymnasium. Kamps and Ellefson clashed in the 108 pound class with Kamps returned the winner.

Coley and Wiese tangled at 100 pounds with Coley being the more clever and getting the nod.

Miller slugged his way to a win over Wettengel at 145 pounds by a fairly large margin.

Dominofski was too experienced and hit harder to defeat Thomas at 132 pounds.

Another go in the 132-pound class.

Lou Ambers Turns in 5th Straight Victory
Philadelphia—(P)—Former lightweight Lou Ambers' winning streak is still holding up.

The Herkimer, N. Y., fighter scored his fifth straight victory last night by blasting out a 10-round decision over Jimmy Vaughn, of Cleveland.

Ambers, who at 138½ outweighed his opponent by only half a pound, floored the Clevelander in the first round and staggered him in nearly all of the following nine rounds.

District Track Meets to be Held At Neenah May 13

Class B and C Schools to Be Shooting at Marks Established Last Year

NEENAH—Neenah will be host to the Class B and C district track meets for the second consecutive year Saturday afternoon.

The district tournaments were held for the first time in Neenah last spring. Shawano won the Class B championship with West DePere taking second, Kaukauna third, Ripon fourth and Neenah fifth. Peshtigo won the Class C championship. Lena took second, Kimberly third, North Fond du Lac fourth, Coleman fifth, Gillett sixth, Pulaski seventh and Winneconne eighth.

Because the meets were held for the first time in Neenah last year, all the marks set in the various events were established as records. The Class B records are 100-yard dash, 10.3 seconds; 220-yard dash, 23.4 seconds; 440-yard dash, 54.4 seconds; 120-yard high hurdles, 16.4 seconds; 220-yard low hurdles, 29.4 seconds; half mile, 2 minutes 10.5 seconds; mile, 4 minutes 59.7 seconds; high jump, 5 feet 5 inches; broad jump, 19 feet 8 inches; pole vault, 10 feet; shot put, 43 feet 6 inches and discus, 106 feet 8 inches.

Class C Marks
100-yard dash, 10.4 seconds; 220-yard dash, 24.3 seconds; 440-yard dash, 55.9 seconds; 120-yard high hurdles, 16.4 seconds; 220-yard low hurdles, 29.4 seconds; half mile, 2 minutes 11.5 seconds; mile, 5 minutes 38 seconds; high jump 5 feet 8 inches; broad jump 19 feet 7 inches; pole vault, 10 feet; shot put, 4 feet 11 inches and discus, 119 feet 9 inches.

Two schools which participated in the tournaments last spring have indicated they won't compete Saturday. Shawano will not defend its Class B championship. Menasha Bluejays will enter the tournament for the first time. It is the first time in 10 years that the Bluejays have had a track team. Kimberly also will not compete. The Kimberly squad would have been contenders for the title, having tied Neenah, 59-51, in a quadrangular meet here Saturday afternoon.

Appleton winners last year included Bud Thomas in junior division fancy diving, Dick Fox in the older boys fancy diving and the older boys relay team.

Junior Events
Juniors will compete in the following events this year: 25-yard free style, 25-yard back stroke, 25-yard breast stroke, 100-yard relay, 50-yard free style, 50-yard back stroke, 50-yard breast stroke, fancy diving with plain front and plain back required and two optional.

Older boys events: 50 and 100-yard free style, 50 and 100-yard back stroke, 50-yard breast stroke, 200-yard relay, 150-yard medley relay, fancy diving with plain front and back, front and back jack required and two optional.

Events in the senior division are as follows: 50, 100, 200 and 440-yard free style, 100-yard back stroke, 100-yard breast stroke; 200-yard relay, 150-yard medley relay; fancy diving with plain front and back, front and back jack required and four optional.

BOXING

New York—Paul De Bello, 137½, Brooklyn, outpointed Johnny Mack, 138½, New Britain, Conn., (8).

Track Teams at Home This Week
Terrors Run Thursday Against West: Vikes Show on Saturday

Appleton's two track teams will be at home this week in dual meets, Lawrence college showing here for the only time this spring.

The Vikings are scheduled with Beloit college's well-balanced team at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Whiting field and indications are it will be "the day" for Lawrence.

The invaders have a well-balanced squad and are slated to end Lawrence's string of 16 dual meet victories.

Besides preparing for the Beloit meet, Coach Arthur Denney will point his squad for the Midwest conference meet at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on May 20. Lawrence isn't expected to repeat the championship won here last year, but should be among the leaders.

Lawrence freshman track squad, augmented by several boys who have been out for spring football, also will show Saturday. It will run against Ripon's freshmen.

Beloit golfers and tennis players also will show here Saturday against Lawrence. The golfers will perform at Butte des Morts and the netters at the new college courts along the river.

Appleton High school track squad will entertain Green Bay West here Thursday afternoon in a dual meet. The gathering will be another workout for West with the Terrors trailing in most of the events. One of the exceptions is the mile where Vogt will go after the school record.

Next week Appleton, Neenah and Oshkosh will clash in their annual triangular tourney.

Smith Hurls, Bats White Sox to Win Over Yankees, 5-3

Drops World Champions Into Second Place Behind Boston Red Sox

CHICAGO (U)—Edgar Smith, purchased only last week from the Athletics, pitched and batted the White Sox to a 5 to 3 victory over the New York Yankees Monday thereby dropping the world champions into second place in the American league behind the Boston Red Sox.

Frankie Crosetti, first man up in the first inning, belted Smith for a homer, but after that the Yankees couldn't do much of anything with the southpaw.

Meantime, Wes Ferrell, making his 1939 pitching debut for the Yankees, got off to a shaky start, giving up three runs in the first two innings.

He kept things pretty well in hand after that for a time, but in the eighth his control left him, he walked three men in a row, and Smith won his own ball game with a single, driving the deciding runners across.

A walk, a single and a sacrifice netted the first White Sox run in the first inning. Two hits, a walk and an infield out produced two more in the third.

After Crosetti hit his homer, the Yankees went scoreless until the sixth, when an error, Joe Gordon's double and an infield bouncer produced a run. In the seventh, a walk and Luke Appling's second error of the game gave the Yankees their only other tally.

Woodward 'Thought Up' Derby Winner; Solicits No Advice

NEW YORK (U)—After watching a horse like Johnstown, it isn't difficult to understand the fascination the racing game holds for such a man as William Woodward, the banker who owns and operates the Belair stud. For the load of money Woodward has sunk in racing since the bug first bit him more than 20 years ago he probably could have bought and operated an ocean-going yacht, complete with pennants. Maybe he has a yacht, too. But I'll bet he's had more fun out of producing three Kentucky derby winners.

Woodward asks no advice of anyone. Breeding is his hobby. It's an expensive one but after all, he's paying for it. He decided that the great sprinter Jamestown, bred to the little broken-hipped filly La France, would result in a fine horse. Woodward knew there was endurance in her blood. The colt, of course, was Johnstown. You see now, maybe, how Woodward felt when he stood out there Saturday and watched them put the roses around his big horse's neck.

Hurler Needed to Fan 6 Batters in 1 Inning of Tilt

Fremont, Neb. (U)—Harvey Jensen, pitcher for a Fremont American Legion junior league baseball team, struck out six men (that's right, six!) in one inning of a league game.

Here's the way it went: The first batter up struck out and the catcher hung onto the ball. The next three batters struck out but the catcher kept dropping third strikes and all three got on base. The fifth man walked.

The sixth man struck out. The catcher dropped the ball, picked it up and threw to Jensen, who threw to the first baseman, who tagged out the runner. The runner had stepped himself thrown out and stepped off base.

The seventh man struck out. The catcher hung onto the ball. Harvey muttered, "Whew!"

Marion Defeats Symco in Pigeon River Loop Tilt

Maple Valley Trounces Manawa as League Gets Underway

MARION—Marion opened its baseball season here Sunday when the Pigeon River Valley league team crossed bats with Symco and won by a score of 9 to 2. Lutzewitz had the Symco sluggers at his mercy at all times and allowed but six hits. His team mates played ragged ball behind his good pitching and made six errors.

Kaufman, pitcher for Symco, allowed 11 hits with his team committing six errors. Elandt, Marion, was the best batsman, connecting for four hits in five times up.

The summary: Symco—1, Marion—9. Symco: Stevens 3, 0, 1; A. Conservation League Plants 1,000 Trees. Waupaca—More than 1,000 Norway, Scotch and white pine trees have been received by the conservation department from the state nursery at Wisconsin Rapids, and on Sunday several of the more ardent conservationists spent the day in planting the trees about the league's grounds. Seven hundred were planted Sunday and the remainder Monday. Doing the work were the president of the conservation league, William Roach, Ray Pinkerton, Arthur Woody, Paul Williams, Norman Barrington, Edward Pommer, William Kneeland and Ernest Smith.

The league has made many additions and improvements during the last few weeks: new trout pools have been built, benches and tables for the convenience of picnickers have been built, benches and tables and an 8 by 12-foot house built for storage of fish food which heretofore had to be kept in the clubhouse. A house also has been built for the caretaker, J. Monroe, who has been employed to look after the grounds for the next five months.

THE START OF A BROKEN ANKLE FOR CAVARETTA. Phil Cavarretta, Chicago Cub outfielder and first baseman, suffered a broken ankle when he slid into second base in a game with the New York Giants. Cavarretta is shown here as he started down on the tragic slide. Burgess Whitehead is the Giant second baseman. The Cubs won the game, 4 to 2.

Report Good Catches In River at Fremont

Fremont—The white bass fishing in the Wolf river at Fremont has been exceptionally good the last few days. Many out-of-town anglers who visited Fremont over the week-end obtained their limit in a short time. The white bass run is expected to last another three weeks.

Dudley Thinks Tee Shots May Decide National Open Winner

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Good tee shots, his Ed Dudley believes, may decide the winner of the national open golf championship here next month. Dudley, one of the foremost golfers in the country, expressed his opinion after a practice round over the par 69 layout at the Spring Mill course of the Philadelphia Country club where the open will be held. "It's a very exacting tee shot course," the home town pro declared as he posted a 74 for the 6,786 yard layout. "If you get off a good, accurate tee shot you are in a good position. But let that be said and done, the tee shot is not the only thing that counts. You are in trouble."

OLD HOME WEEK MURDER

by Phoebe Atwood Taylor

things for tomorrow," Brinley said, "and I never realized it until I got over to Walt's. Later, Walt said that Win had probably made for the woods somewhere, and I thought of the icehouse—they say Win lived there one winter—so I came up here. I know the way pretty well, because of taking Amos up so often, and I thought I'd just look here and then go, and I wouldn't get dirty. As a matter of fact," he added in a burst of honesty, "I didn't think Win could have got that far from town, and I didn't go all the way to the ice house at all. These are my last clean pants, and the cleaner's man doesn't come till day after tomorrow."

"Huh," Asey said. "An' there are lots of others out huntin' Win Billin's too?"

"Oh, yes. Weston and Jeff Leach—that's why I thought I'd better go, if they were taking the trouble. There were a dozen or so others. Jeff and Wes had a town map, and were marking off spots where Win might be, and everyone had a speck to go to."

"Didn't you take any kind of light with you?"

"I had a flash, but I lost it in the woods," Brinley said.

"Who was with you durin' the fireworks tonight?"

"Sara, and Jane, and Jeff, and Bessie," Brinley said, "and a lot of others. The fireworks weren't very good tonight. The dampness, I guess. There's no fog uptown now, and the radio says fair tomorrow, and I do hope it clears off for the day."

"When I stopped you an' held you up," Asey said, "why didn't you tell me this?" Asey knew he was being unreasonable, but now that he knew for sure he had let his man slip through his fingers, he couldn't help being and sounding irritated.

"You got him?"

"I tried to," J. Arthur said, "but—well, I was afraid. I've never liked firearms, and there you were, poking me in the stomach with that gun!"

"Brinley," Asey said, "have you the keys to your car? Give 'em to Ham—I know, you don't like strangers drivin' your auto, but do you want to walk back to the car? I thought Ham, Hamilton, get his key. We'll drive him back to the hollow. An' drive me, too. I don't suppose I was ever so weary in all my born days."

He felt very old and tired as he got out of the car at the Randall house.

Lane ran up to him.

"By George, Asey—you got him! How you did it, I don't know or care, but—"

"I didn't," Asey said. "Brinley was just on a hunt—"

"Who said anything about Brinley? Come into the house and take a look—me found him. One of your men got him in the shoulder. Not much, but enough to stop him. He's hurt. Come on! And how you could ever hit him on a night like this, with this fog. I don't know! Man, you're wonderful!"

"Lane, are you crazy?" Asey demanded.

"Oh, come on! He even had Kay's beret beside him—he's the one, all right! Come on—"

Walking mechanically, as though he had been wound up with a key, Asey followed Lane into the living room of the Randall house.

On the couch lay the haggard figure of man he was muddy and dirty, and his clothes were torn at his hair in wild disorder.

Cummings, bending over him, obscured the man's face.

"Who?" Asey asked blankly.

"Who is it?"

"Win Billings," Cummings said. He—why, Asey, you look about done up!"

"I am. Win Billings—you mean Win Billings?"

"The last," Cummings ripped in two a strip of adhesive tape. "The last Billings of Billingsgate. Maybe you can get a word out of him. We can't. Nice clean wound, Asey. You're one of the few men I know who can shoot someone up without making a nasty mess for me. There, you'll recover. Win, in fact, you got off about as easy as Kay did."

Asey sat down in a chintz-covered arm chair.

"Doc, this is sort of mixed up in my mind. Just what happened here?"

"Ask Win," Cummings said.

said violently. "Won't stand for it. Won't stand it no longer. Said no. Mean it." He drew a pipe from his pocket. "Gimme that pouch!"

Asey filled his pipe and lit it for him.

"Win," he said, "what'n time happened tonight?"

"Put me 'bed, they did," Win said bitterly, "seven o'clock. Locked the door. I got out the window. Got out before, if you want to know. This time I was through. Feller gave me a ride up here. Nice feller, no nonsense about him. I says, gimme a life, an' he did."

"Hondin' for the ice house, huh?"

Win nodded. "Well, kind of lost m'bearin' in the fog. Even first thing I know, someone starts shootin'—one, two, three. Right to me. Says to me'self then, I says, 'b'golly, I am through! Won't stand it no longer. They can shoot me full of holes like a sieve 'f they're a mind to. I says, but no more showin' off for 'em. Why? Never asked 'em for nothin'."

"Why sh'd I have to dress up for 'em? That's what I says to m'self! Col'bration! They don't know how to hold no col'bration. Asey! Take like when the Gen'l come Turkey red carpets, urns full of flowers, silk hats in Prince Alberts, plenty to eat, plenty to drink—Asey, I thought it all over, an' it ain't right. They can shoot me all they're mind to, but it ain't right. Won't stand for it no more neither."

White House Is Acquainted With Strife in State

National Leaders Notified Of New Democratic Organization

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Democratic politics in Wisconsin continued to furnish interesting developments as it was disclosed that the White House and the Democratic national committee have been in communication with the insurgent liberal Democratic party organization recently formed under the leadership of Gustave J. Keller of Oshkosh in opposition to the conservative wing headed by Chairman William D. Carroll of the state committee.

The birth of the "Democratic Party Organization of Wisconsin" at Oshkosh last month, which was attended by some 600 persons from more than half of Wisconsin's counties, has been related to Chairman James A. Farley at national party headquarters, and to President Roosevelt, it has been learned.

The organization "repudiated the conservative state leadership of the Democratic party headed by State Chairman William D. Carroll because they are definitely opposed to the president and his policies," headquarters was told.

Turn Down Dinners

The liberal organization also explained its refusal to cooperate with the regular state committee in sponsoring the Jefferson day dinners being held in various state cities.

The supporters of our organization refuse to pay $5 per plate thereby creating a fund to be used by the enemies of the administration," one message to Washington said.

To President Roosevelt personally has gone a telegram saying that "liberals of Wisconsin have revolted against reactionary leadership in the Democratic party and have launched a permanent organization to bring the Democratic party in our state in harmony with the policies of the national administration."

Observers found it difficult today to evaluate the relative strength of the bitterly contending factions in the state party. It was evident, however, that the group headed by Keller has shown more activity in its short existence, than has the rival organization headed by Carroll. The Keller committee has already staged several county rallies at widely separated points in the state, and is planning more. Its summer program will be featured by a banquet and conference in Milwaukee on June 10, it has been announced.
